Presents - IN SPANISH

The 123's of ABA - Developing Functional and Expanded Communication Using ABA

Presented by: Samantha Cordova, M.A., BCBA - Texana Center, Children's Center for Autism

Date: Saturday, October 13, 2018

Time: 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m., Registration: 8:30 a.m. - 9:00 a.m.

Location: The Harris Center, 9401 Southwest Freeway, Room 104, Houston 77074

Description: The goal of the workshop is to demonstrate how to use applied behavior analysis (ABA) to promote language development and use. This workshop will cover topics such as: how to maximize opportunities for language development in the natural environment, the motivational variables involved with being a proficient speaker, the importance of the mand (requesting), the breakdown of language into teachable components, strategies to move from non-vocal to vocal production, how to address articulation difficulties, and assessment and data collection. Previous attendance at an ABC's of ABA workshop is strongly encouraged, as we will be referencing the skills learned in this presentation and not spending much time teaching them. Lecture, video, and handouts may be used. Space is limited so register early! Box lunch provided but no child care available.

TEA Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits available!

Registration and Fees: Register by October 3rd to save!

Individual $50.00 ($40 if before 10/3) Student $25.00 (with documentation)
